

Doctor in the House

The game in a nutshell

Slip quotations from Doctor Who into everyday conversations and you score points if no-one notices what you're doing! You could be in the school yard or in a meeting, talking to the President or your friends, just smuggle those lines into a chat and you get the points!

How you score

Every time you quote the Doctor (from the Doctor in the House list) you score some points. The harder the quotation, the more points you get!

If someone so much as raises an eyebrow or asks 'What are you on about?', you do not get the points. Bah humbug, but that's the rule! Your challenge is to sneakily use as many Doctor in the House lines as you can without anyone realising what you're doing.

And if you hear someone trying to use one of the lines you can get a bonus ten points by shouting, 'Doctor in the house!'

How to play

You can set yourself a target score-line and play 'Doctor in the House' for a bit of festive fun on your own. Or you can challenge your mates, compare scores amongst yourselves and the person with the lowest score has to buy the mince pies at Christmas. The game can be played over a fixed period of an hour, a day or a fortnight – it's up to you!

What lines are acceptable?

A complete list of lines is given below, plus the number of points that using them successfully wins you.

(Doctor in the) House Rules

- You cannot score points from the same line twice in the same game.
- You must say the lines loud and clear! No muttering under your breath.
- You can devise your own variations of the game like Pond's Ponderings using Amy's quips and quotations, lines from Christmas specials or use the words from any of the Doctor's friends and foes.
- But the main rule is have loads of Yuletide fun playing Doctor in the House!

Doctor in the House: The Line List!

It's nearly Christmas Day!

☐ 1 point

I'm standing right here. Hello!

☐ 2 points

Magnificent! Oh, come on! That is splendid!

☐ 3 points

I don't understand it. And I understand everything..

☐ 4 points

Oh, no, I forgot... you hate Christmas!

☐ 5 points

You there, boy! What day is this?

☐ 6 points

So! Where were we? I was summoned, wasn't I?

☐ 7 points

There was something I had to tell you. Something important. What was it? No. Hold on, hold on, hold on. Oh! I know! Merry Christmas!

☐ 8 points

The Father Christmas stuff is just a disguise.

☐ 9 points

So! What are we going to do? Eat crisps and talk about girls?

☐ 10 points

It shorted out. Finally, a lie too big!

☐ 11 points

Keep the faith! Stay off the naughtiness!

☐ 12 points

I met her once when she was older.

☐ 13 points

But I can't control the machine... But I met a man who can... But he hates me.

☐ 14 points

Tell her I'll phone her back... and that was never a real chapel.

☐ 15 points

Trust me, it's this or go to your room and design a new kind of screwdriver. Don't make my mistakes. Now go!

☐ 16 points

You fibber. Isomorphic. There's no such thing... These controls are isomorphic.

☐ 17 points

Now. Your past is going to change - that means your memories will change, too. Bit scary but you'll get the hang of it.

☐ 18 points

Do you know, there's a thing called a face spider... it specifically evolved to scuttle up the backs of bedroom cupboards!

☐ 19 points

Have you ever thought what it's like to be wanderers in the fourth dimension? Have you?
